Declaration on the usage of Animal derived materials

Animal Derived Materials (ADMs) include any substance derived from the body of any animal, including fat, flesh, blood, milk and eggs. They are most commonly used in food, cosmetics, pharmaceuticals and medical devices industries. Since the usage of these materials are associated with the risk of TSE (Transmissible spongiform encephalopathy) infectivity, globally there are many regulations in place to minimize such risks.

This declaration letter certifies the compliance status of all bare printed circuit boards manufactured by Amitron Corp. w.r.t the usage of Animal Derived Materials.

Animal derived materials present: No

Please keep in mind that the information being provided regarding the substances contained in these product(s) is solely based on information provided by suppliers or producers of the raw materials. We have not conducted any tests to determine the presence of these substances.
